Terms and Conditions

The Japan Society's scheme for long-term loan of teaching soroban is available to support school teachers and educators who are involved in teaching numeracy or mathematics to introduce soroban to students in the UK.

Those participating in the loan scheme must agree to the following terms and conditions:

- Borrowers to complete short feedback forms when asked by The Japan Society, indicating how the loan soroban was used during the loan period. This will contribute to research evaluating how teaching soroban are being used within the UK education context.
- The soroban is loaned to the school/organisation stated on the loan form rather than the individual applicant; therefore it may not be transferred to another school/organisation.
- The borrower should inform the Japan Society before the end of the loan period (one academic year) if they would like to renew or return the loan.
- The borrower will make arrangements with the Japan Society to return the soroban at the end of the loan and ensure it is suitably packaged. The school/organisation must cover the cost for return postage.
- Borrowers will take reasonable care in using the loaned item and return it in a similar condition to which it was received. The school/organisation understands that they will be invoiced for loss of the teaching soroban.
- This form must be co-signed by a member of the senior leadership team of the school/organisation; in the event that the borrower leaves the school/organisation during the loan period, the co-signer will take over responsibility for the loan.

Note on data: Information collected on this form will be used only in relation to the Teaching Soroban Loan Scheme. The Japan Society will treat the information confidentially and not share your details with a third party outside the scheme. If you have any questions, please contact education@japansociety.org.uk.
