

漢字

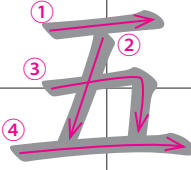

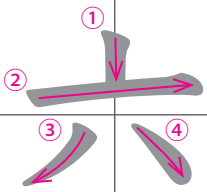

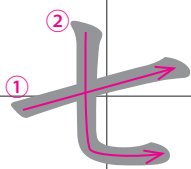

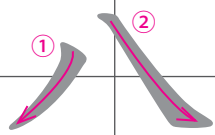

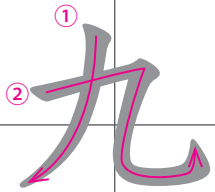

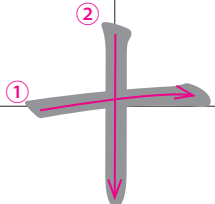

Kanji Characters

In Japanese, numbers are written using characters called kanji. Each kanji is made up of different number of strokes written in a particular order.

Why not practice writing the numbers 1 to 10 in kanji characters? Trace the characters by following the stroke order, then try to write them on your own!

| | | | | | | |
|---|---|--|--|--|--|--|
|  |  | | | | | |
| ichi means 'one' | | | | | | |
|  |  | | | | | |
|  |  | | | | | |
| ni means 'two' | | | | | | |
|  |  | | | | | |
|  |  | | | | | |
|  |  | | | | | |
| san means 'three' | | | | | | |
|  |  | | | | | |
| yon means 'four' | | | | | | |

| | | | | | |
|---|---|--|--|--|--|
|  go means 'five' | 五 | | | | |
|  roku means 'six' | 六 | | | | |
|  nana means 'seven' | 七 | | | | |
|  hachi means 'eight' | 八 | | | | |
|  kyu means 'nine' | 九 | | | | |
|  ju means 'ten' | 十 | | | | |