

School Life

© The Japan Society (2024)

Your Task:

Write a short letter to your headteacher to share your thoughts and feelings about the new Japanese school rules they want to introduce to your school.

Dear _____,

Today, we learned about what life is like for children at elementary schools in Japan. At first, I thought _____, but actually _____! I think some of these rules would be very good for our school, but some of them might not be so good.

First, I think _____ would be a great idea, because _____!

I also think _____ would be an excellent idea, because _____

However, I think _____ would not be a good idea, because _____.

I also think _____ might not be such a good idea, because _____.

I enjoyed learning about Japanese schools today, and I hope you will consider my ideas. I think these new rules could make our lives at school even better!

Yours sincerely, _____