

Pauline Chakmakjian is an independent lecturer on a variety of subjects related to the history, fine arts and culture of Japan. She lectures for private member societies, corporate entertainment, private homes, universities, cruises, charities and other related organizations including lecture tours in Australia and New Zealand.

She holds a BA in English Literature during which she was also awarded a Merit Scholarship in Fine Art, a Diploma in Law, an MA in Modern French Studies and is a member of the Honourable Society of the Inner Temple.

Pauline was elected onto the Board of the Japan Society of the United Kingdom from 2008–2014 and the Japan Society of Hawaii from 2015–2017.

In 2014, Pauline was appointed a Visit Kyoto Ambassador by the Mayor of the City of Kyoto.

She is the author of The Sphinxing Rabbit: Her Sovereign Majesty (Panoma Press, 2019).

Twitter: @authorpauline1 | Instagram: @thejapanroom | Website: thejapanroom.org.uk